RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Researcher, Exercise Physiology Laboratory
Ewha Womans University | 2025 - Present
Advisor: Prof. Kyuwan Lee

• Collect surface electromyography data from 12 lower-extremity muscles using the Noraxon Ultium system.

• Process EMG data using filtering, rectification, RMS smoothing, and MVIC normalization in MyoResearch.

• Conduct single-leg squat and Y-Balance Test assessments and analyze frontal-plane knee motion from two-dimensional video recordings.

• Design and conduct a cross-sectional study examining relationships among lower-extremity alignment, dynamic knee valgus, dynamic balance, and muscle activation in healthy adult women.

• Conduct descriptive statistics, normality testing, and Pearson/Spearman correlation analyses with corrections for multiple comparisons in SPSS.

• Prepare and revise research protocols, recruitment materials, consent forms, case-report forms, and IRB documents.

RESEARCH METHODS & SOFTWARE

Surface electromyography data collection and basic signal processing; single-leg squat and Y-Balance Test assessment; two-dimensional lower-extremity movement analysis; SPSS, Microsoft Excel, G*Power, and Noraxon MyoResearch.
